Foreword

Faces of friendship, precision, caution, savvy, ideality . . .
The pure, extravagant, yearning, questioning . . . face . . .
The face as of a dream, the face of an immobile rock . . .
I see them and complain not, and am content with all.

Walt Whitman

The faces of B.H.S. . . .

Questioning faces of seventh graders,
lost in the maze of corridors . . .

Hopeful faces of seniors as graduation draws near . . .

The stern, understanding, and laughing faces of our teachers . . .

Our relieved, yet anxious faces when research themes are finally handed in . . .

Fascinated, often grimaced faces in the biology lab . . .

Some studious, some dreaming faces in the study hall . . .

The strained, victorious faces of our athletes . . .

The proud, cheering faces of Bison fans . . .

The empty, hurt faces after the Westmont game . . .

Faces painted in the gaiety of "Carrousel"

Frost-bitten faces at school ski lessons . . .

Iridescent, glowing faces prom night . . .

Faces altered by the frowns of concentration

The smiles of classroom
humor,

The tear-stained cheeks of happiness and disappointment alike . . .

These are the faces that give expression, meaning, to B.H.S.

It is the hope of the 1965 Echo staff that somewhere in this book you will find the faces that have special meaning to you, and have become a part of your memories of a wonderful school year.

MR. THOMAS DOYLE

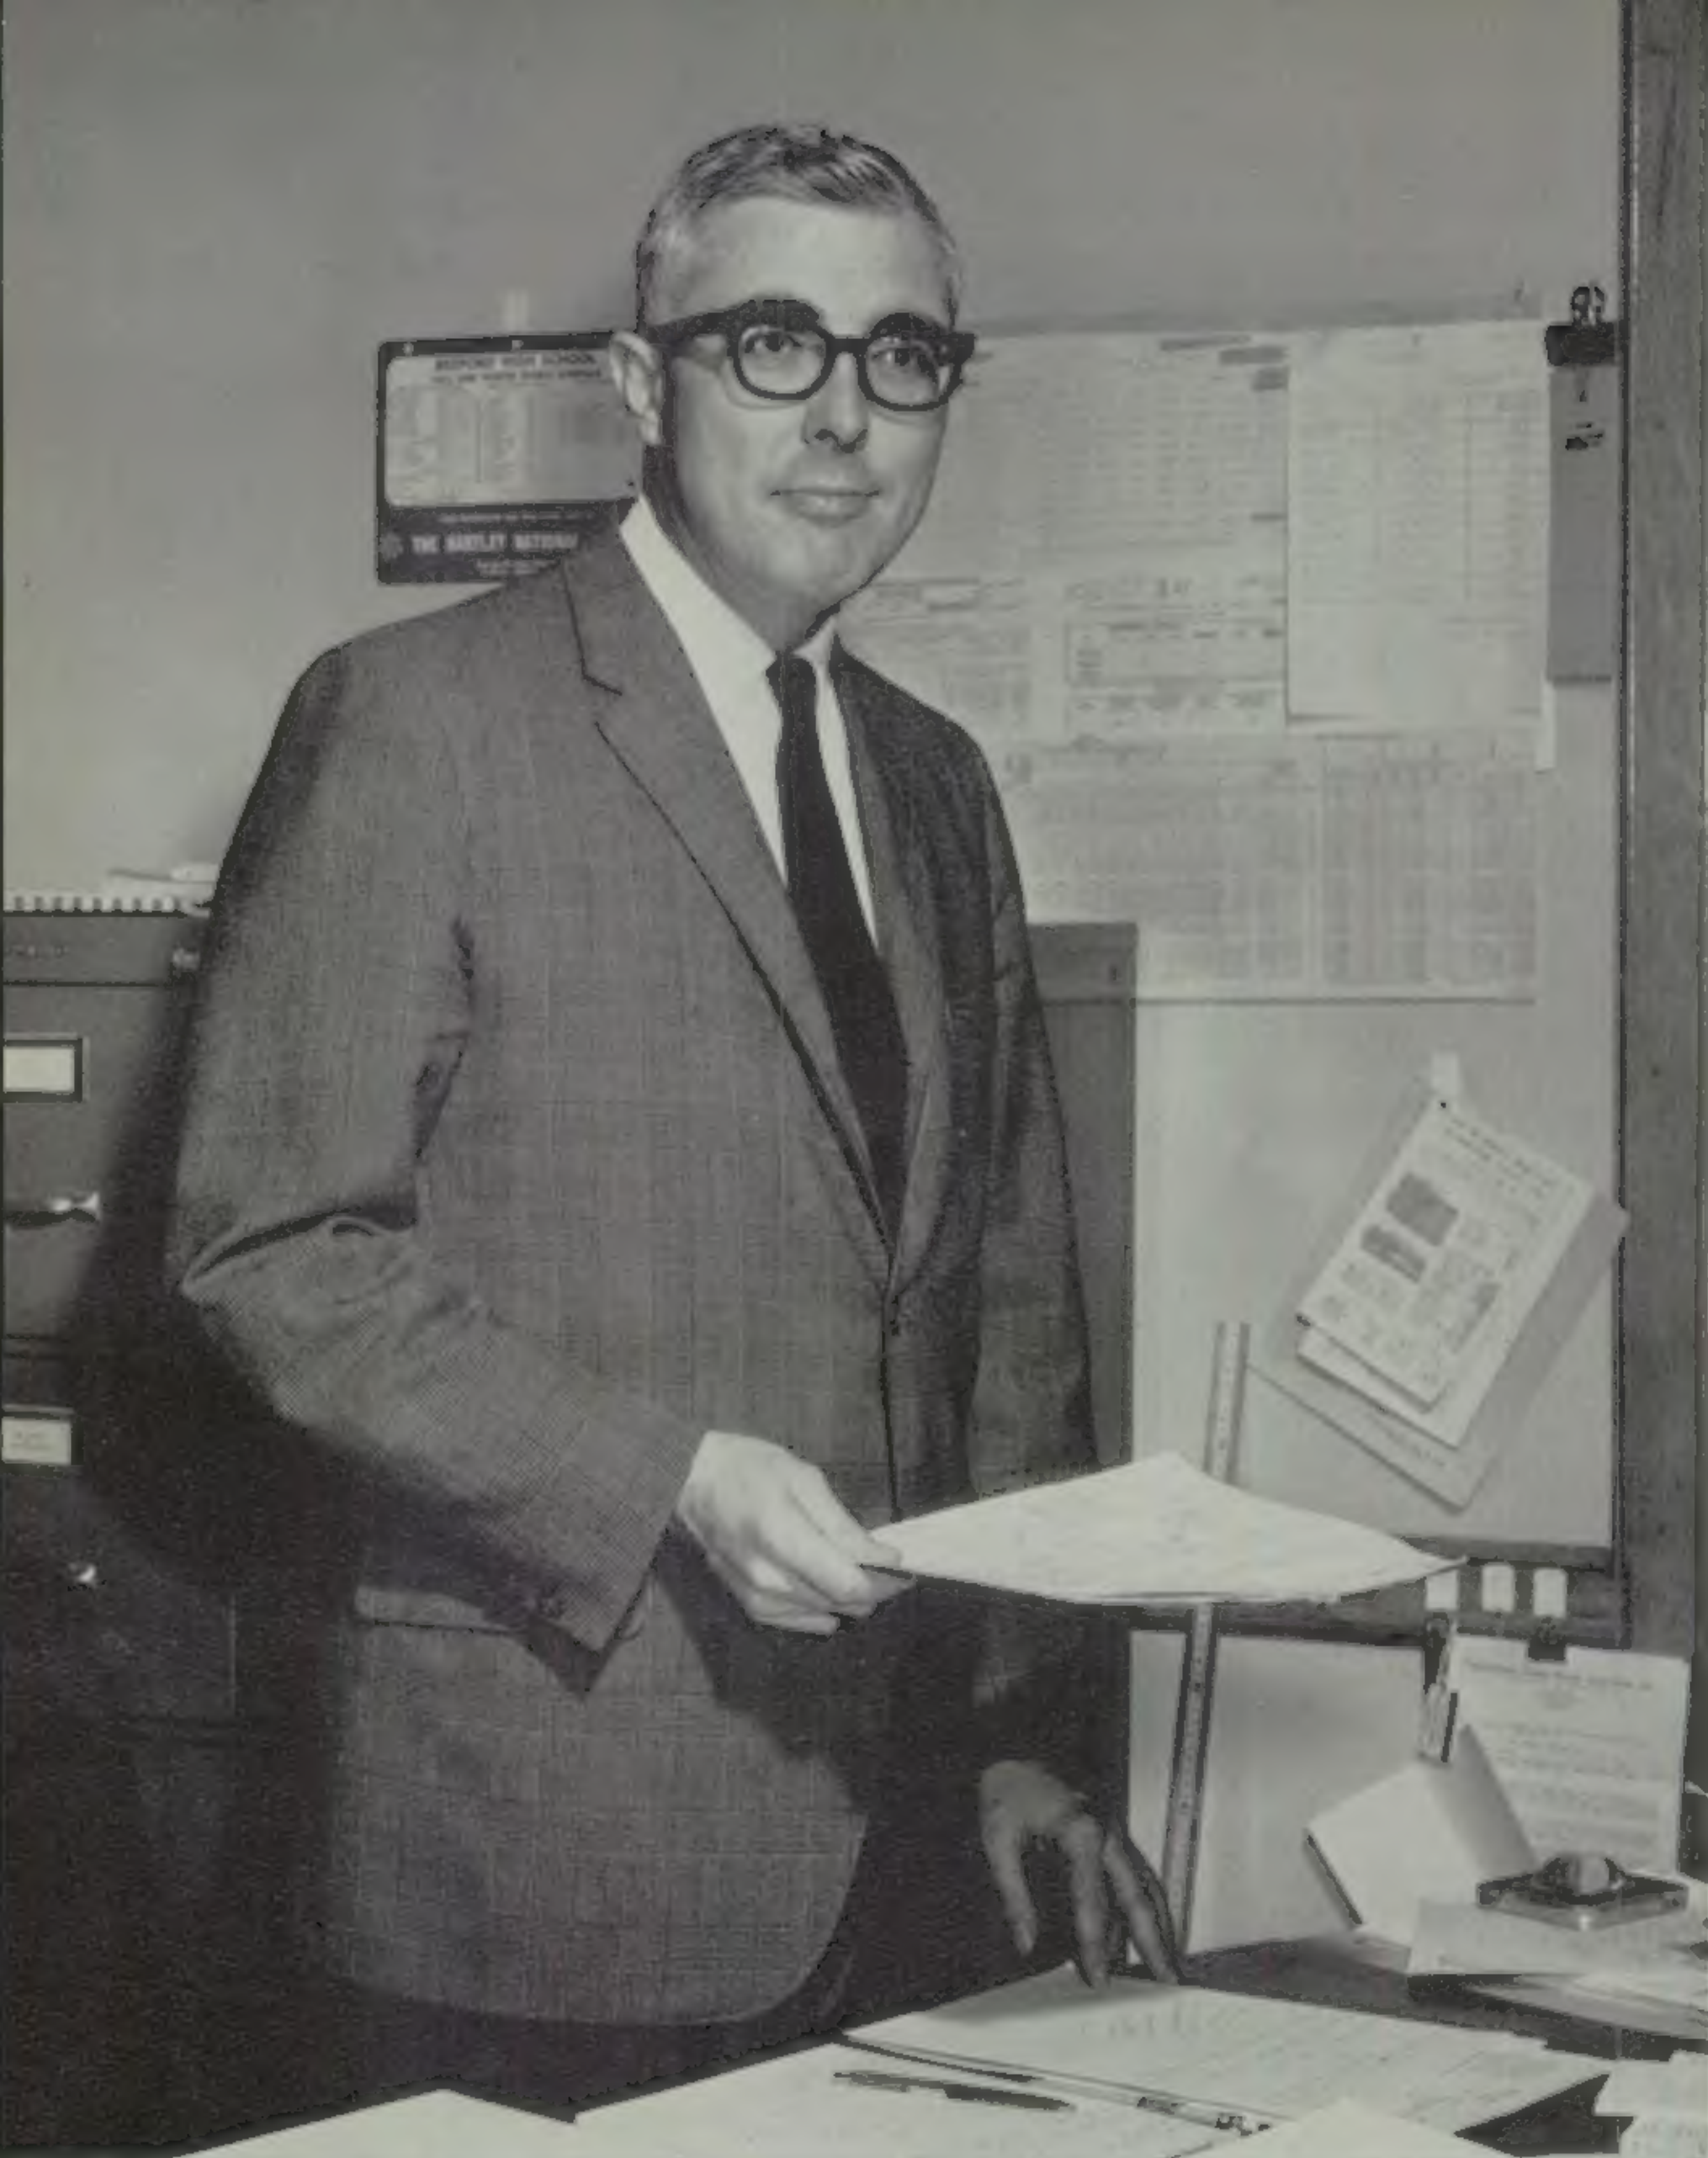

Respect, made up of little things—of which kindness, helpfulness, and concern were of the utmost importance—is the kind of respect our class advisor has gained from the class of “65”. His interest, advice, and determination, along with his everlasting smile, joking manner and twinkling eyes, will always be remembered as those qualities and mannerisms which have made him outstanding. Of course, he not only shows interest in our senior class; he has many obligations to his students and to B.H.S., including his position as faculty manager. Although he joined the social studies department this year, most of us will remember him for his safety classes and driver’s education classes. We must not overlook his great patience—greatly needed in the latter job.

We, the seniors, know that Mr. Doyle’s determination, interest, and patience have enabled our class to make quite a few honorable accomplishments—one of which was our memorable junior prom. Yes, all those little things that he did for us helped to make our class a success, and for this reason we proudly dedicate the 1965 Echo to Mr. Thomas Doyle, as a symbol of our appreciation and gratitude.

Well, here we are again only this time as "juniors," one year older and we hope a little wiser. We have five long years of high school to our credit, and believe it or not, only one left to try to complete our duties as "students of Bedford High." Throughout these years we have strived to make our class one to be proud of. So far, I think we have achieved this goal in various aspects; but whether or not we can continue is really up to the Juniors themselves. We will work to the best of our ability and if we see ourselves failing, we will "try and try again." That is what we should remember as future seniors, future graduates, and even as future citizens of these United States—"try and try again" with determination to make everyone proud of the CLASS OF 1966 . . .

Many exciting things have taken place in our second year at BHS. I think we will all agree that the class party was the most exciting. The officers did a very good job in decorating the cafeteria to get everyone in the Christmas spirit. There was also spacious room for dancing. A junior high combo mixed with popular records also added spark to the party. There was a good attendance and we will all agree it was a great success!

Art Department

A relatively small number of B.H.S. students enter elective art. However, those who do have a good opportunity to lay the technical foundation for more advanced work in drawing and design at the college level. Many elective students have entered some field of art as a life work.

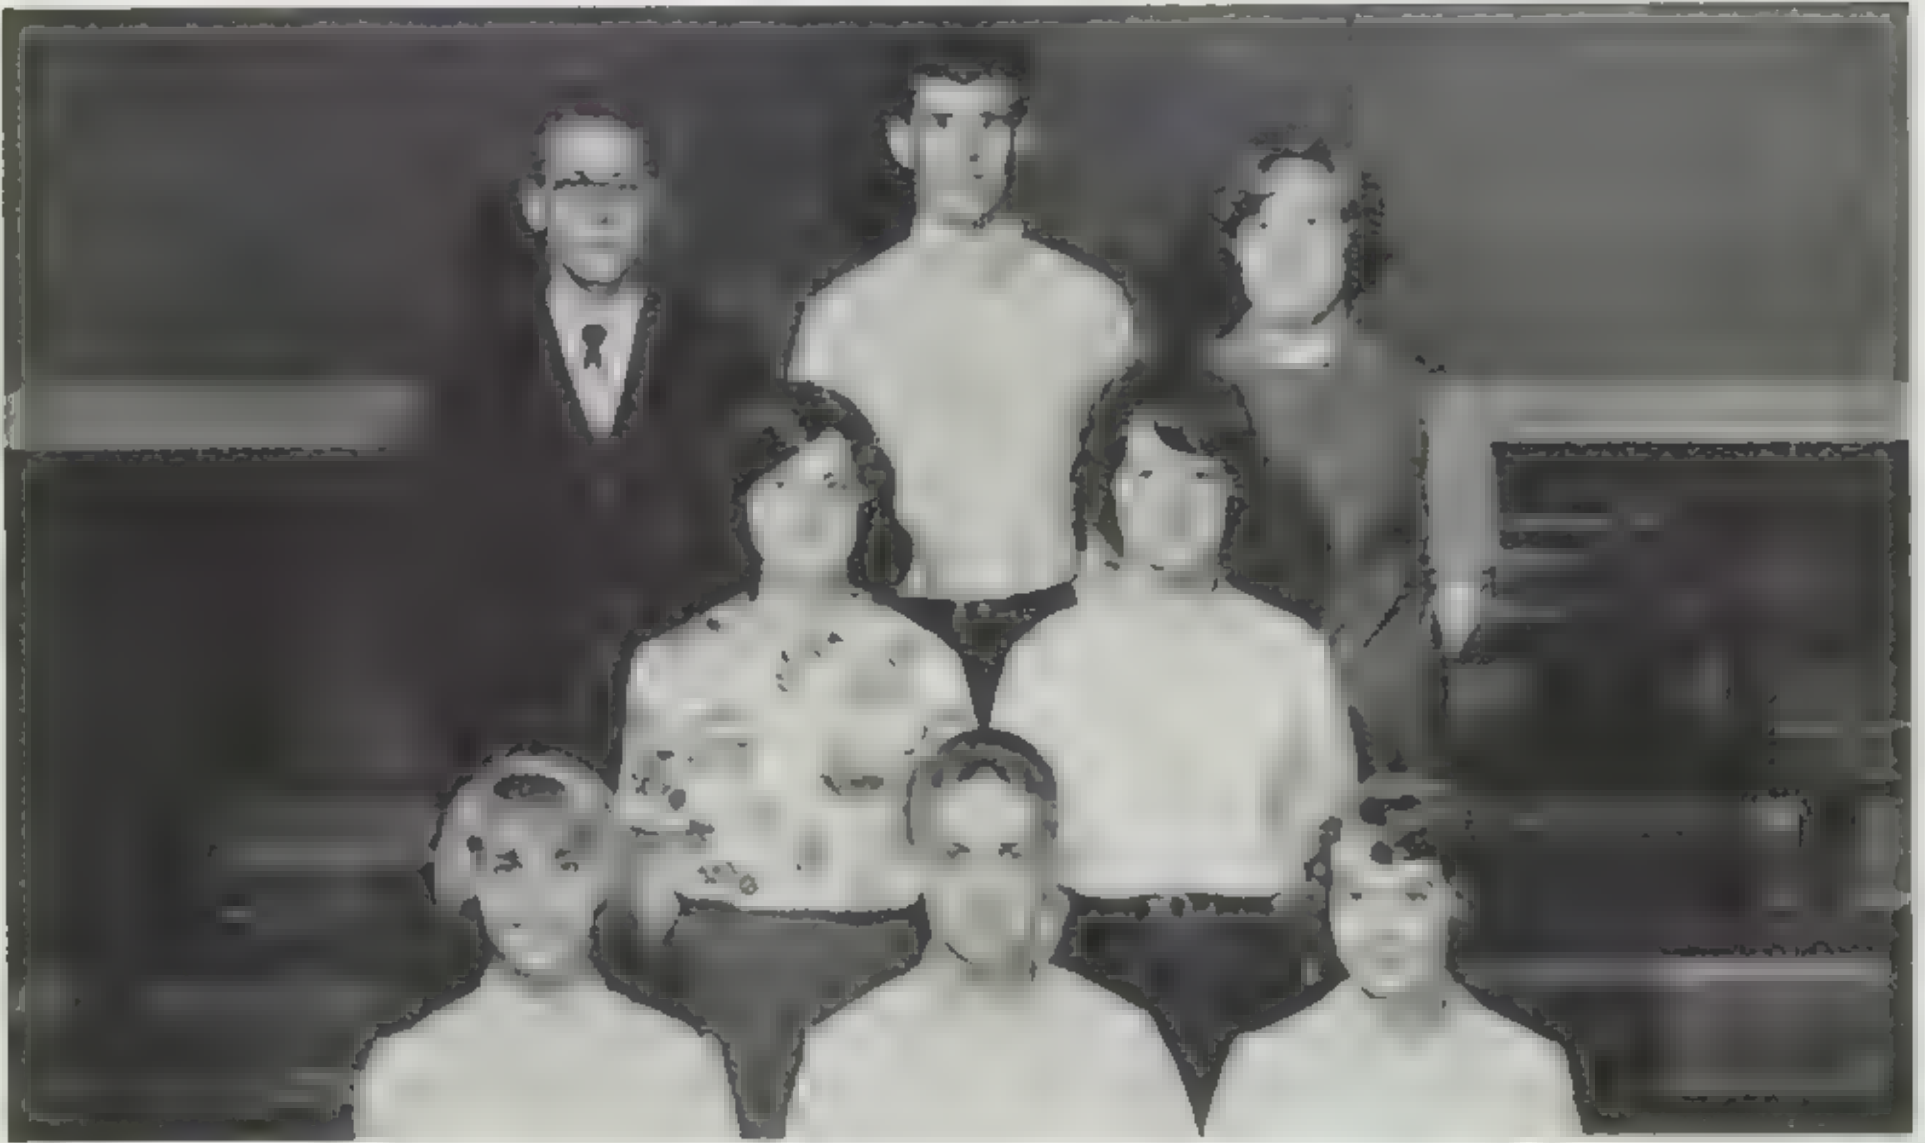

In the picture to the left, we see a student adding the finishing touches to a face done in charcoal. At the bottom, students working in ceramics are creating both pottery and sculpture.

BEDFORD HI-LITES

EDITORIAL

"For a better Bedford High School".

These words, which appear on every issue of the Hi-Lites sum up the purpose of this newspaper. We are here to inform and entertain you to the best of our abilities. This year the staff has been trying new articles and ideas such as "Party Line", "Teachers Talk", and "Lookin' Back", but we need you, the readers, to help us by making suggestions for improvement. Any member of the staff will gladly listen to you.

It's your paper. Help us make it a good one

—Alice Whisker,
Editor

Party Line

Well folks, here I am with a lot more juicy gossip about the guys and dolls of BHS!

Confidential to Dottie F.—Please wrap your wrap around before coming to school—OK? . . . Have you noticed Ron R. and Susan B?

What! Ken Baker an all-star football player? . . . What ever happened to Diane E. and Butch S?

Vicki B.—How does your new dog sweater fit? . . . Ever thought of what our perky cheerleaders go through during football season? They really deserve a hand-clap-clap-clap. . . Did you know Bill W. and Roger E. wear makeup on their chests? . . . Could it be that Jim T. and Joyce Z. are back together?

The BHS band's new theme song is "The Lone Ranger". . . Have you heard about Dean C. and Carol H. at "Carousel"? . . . Get a load of Tom H.'s new trumpet—sharp, huh? . . . Bobby D.—Why aren't you speaking to Lynne D.?

Hey, Connie P.—Whose ring is that around your neck? Could it be Bob's? . . . Wasn't the Pigskin Hop great this year? Ah, such is life!

—Linda Bowser

The Echo

Preparing the final copy sheet takes time, work, and lots of scrap paper!

More pictures!

At the very first Echo meeting of the year, I passed out a mimeographed sheet that began, "So you are an Echo staff member?" The purpose of the paper was to state some of the objectives for the 1965 yearbook. Of course the main objective was what every staff dreams of—the best yearbook yet. Those were our idealistic days, before we realized some of our limitations—the financial kind and the physical kind . . . you could not possibly afford the beautifully embossed yearbook with colored pictures that we would have liked to assemble for you; we could not have the best photo coverage for you when none of us were expert photographers, and the professional photographer came only twice during the year.

So we discovered what it did mean to be an Echo staff member. It meant work all of the time for six months—not just on Monday nights . . . It meant thinking and worrying and finally coming up with an idea—only to find that it was impossible . . . It meant teamwork and individual work and the cooperation of an entire school. The spirit of the 1965 Echo staff was carried all the way from the gym to the Coffee Shop, and scattered over a million places in between. Or perhaps it was picked up from a million places, because the spirit of the Echo should be a condensed version of the spirit of Bedford High School. Yes, being an Echo staff member meant a lot of work, but it gave us all a deeper insight into the spirit of our school that none of us would have missed.

Leader of the pack, Jo Ann has been with the squad for three worthwhile years. Her extra "oomph" and vitality contribute much to her cheering. Jo Ann will be a great loss to Bedford's future cheerleaders.

Varsity Cheerleaders

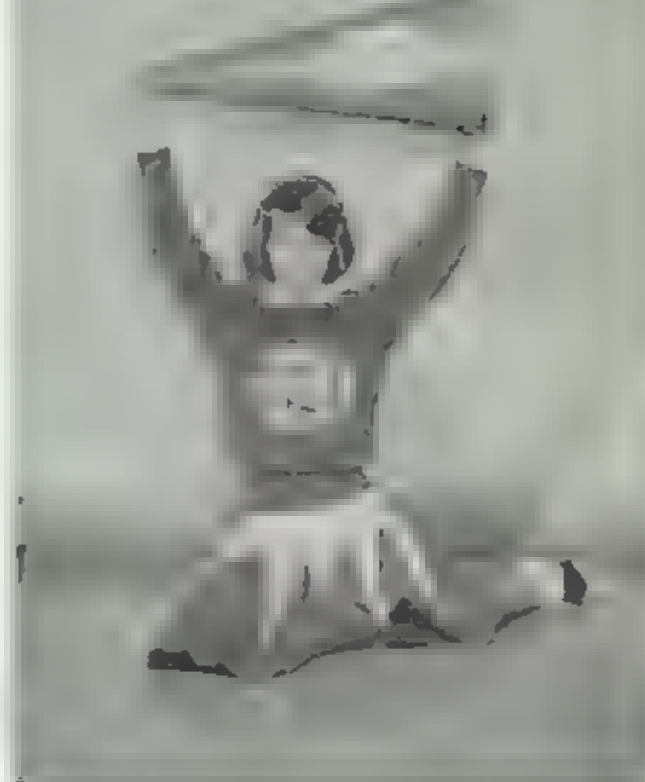

BARB BAKER

Barb has been a lively cheerleader with the group for one year. Her enthusiasm of the various sports adds enthusiasm and vigor to her cheering. Friendliness and frankness give Barb a sparkling personality.

RONNIE IMGRUND

A three-year veteran. This faithful setter, known for her friendly ways, will surely be missed by the squad next year. Good luck, Ronnie!

ANN SCHISLER

This easygoing gal has been on the squad for two well filled years. Always eager to help, willing to learn, and witty—that's Ann!

BECKY BEEPLE

The girl with the "Cleopatra lock", who can usually be found babbling over with joy. A newcomer this year, and the youngest of the group, Becky is well-deserving of the spot she holds.

LIZ JAMES

Liz is a two year member, who attributes much to the squad with her originality. You'll recognize Liz by her extra bounce and laughing ways.

CANDY SUGGARS

Candy has served one year on the squad and is very worthy of her position. You'll see Candy with that winning smile and great disposition.

Winning became a habit for the Bisons this year, and the seniors on these pages were the nucleus of the powerful team. Many of these boys have been regulars since they were sophomores, and many more were regulars when they were juniors. Nine wins and one loss is a glorious end to a high school football career. These boys have given Bedford a new reputation—one which we all hope can be maintained in the future.
